Dear Apple Developer Program,

This is to confirm that the APIs and other software licensed at developer.sony.com are licensed under their respective license terms. Thus, third-party developers are indeed able to download documentation, code examples and SDKs and actually use them in accordance with the applicable terms.

For example, the Audio Controller API at https://developer.sony.com/develop/audio-control-api/#overview-content and further detailed at https://developer.sony.com/develop/audio-control-api/api-references/api-overview-2 is licensed under CC BY-ND 4.0, as detailed at https://developer.sony.com/develop/audio-control-api/legal-information.

I trust this satisfies any concerns you may have.   If you have any questions, do no hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely Yours,

Mateo Davis
